Behavior Standards for Our Homeless Citizens

As a consumer of services in the community, we wanted to share with you these behavior standards:

1. Respect your neighbor. Don't trespass, litter, vandalize, or use without permission another person's property. You are subject to legal action if you break the law!

2. Respect yourself. Find private locations to conduct your personal affairs, including your bodily functions. Avoid criminal activity or the appearance of participating in criminal activity.

3. Respect services. Make full use of the shelter and services that the community has provided. Do your part to maintain the order and cleanliness of these services.

4. Respect the community. Be involved in positive, productive activities. Avoid panhandling, hanging out, or other behavior which "gives a bad rap" to our homeless citizens in the eyes of the rest of the community and visitors to our community.

5. Respect your potential. Seize the opportunity to gain housing, jobs, and services you need to become self-sufficient and a contributing member of the community.

Providers of shelter and services will support efforts to make sure that agency and client activities are consistent with these behavior standards.
